

S-70 Automatic, Portable & Standalone Label Dispenser

Designed to make label dispensing quick & easy

Increasing productivity on the assembly lines can contribute to the overall business efficiency in a company. For supply chain executives who want to improve assembly workflow with minimal investment can consider upgrading the manual production devices to automatic ones.

SATO S-70 is a portable electric label dispenser designed to make label dispensing quick and easy. It automatically peels and dispenses a new label once one has been taken off. S-70 can be used for many types of labels such as small labels, clear labels and black or silver polyester labels.
